NORTHERN ESSEX
COMMUNITY COLLEGE

HAVERHILL

MASSACHUSETTS

Our association with Northern Essex Community College enables us to observe first-hand the growing awareness on the part of the American people that it is education that makes the man—the man who makes our society what it is today and what it will become.

Although the community college is a relatively new experiment in the realm of education, it is becoming increasingly apparent that it is fulfilling a vital need as our young people not only realize the value, indeed the necessity, of education, but strive to attain it.

So we announce as the theme of the Lumen 1965 "Light Dispels Darkness," symbolizing the light of education reaching out into the world.

The Lumen 1965 is dedicated to the memory of Dr. James W. Thomson. Dr. Thomson gave unstintingly of his time and effort, becoming our friend and counselor. His enthusiasm for youth, and his confidence in human nature, instilled in us courage to meet the challenges that determine our future.

"A pause for a chat with the President."

HAROLD BENTLEY, President of the College
B.A., Penn College; B.D., Hartford Seminary;
S.T.M., Boston University

Our college was founded in October 1960, when your President was appointed. Sinee that time, many signifieant events have taken plaee. A great number of students have given of themselves to improve their educational outreaeh here in this old building. We have graduated two elasses in the past two years. This year many of our former students are graduating from the next college to which they were transferred. A very fine group of teaehers have moved into our college life and have given mueh in leadership and influenee.

Throughout the entire eollege a sense of expeetaney is slowly developing. Now that we have reeeived the grant of 111 acres by the city hall of Haverhill, we are assured of an imposing site for the great new eollege that is slowly moving towards us down through the years. What a pleasure it is to share in this great enterprise where we meet in a common search for knowledge and in a mutual development of understanding and concern for those values that make life truly worth living.

The students who graduate this year will earry with them a full measure of pride as they leave this college. They will be able to walk in dignity and in self-relianee beeause they have aceomplished so mueh that five years ago was not even in their dreams. The entire staff of the college wishes you well. We are all grateful to have shared in your joys and even in your tribulations during the past two years.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council was organized to provide a necessary link between the student body and the administration.
Election to the Student Council is a great honor, but it also entails a great responsibility as each member represents not only his respective class but also the College.

The Student Council affords an excellent opportunity to observe and participate in politics at a level which is consistent with the maturity of the students.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Paul Janocha, Treasurer; Raelene Fernald, Secretary; Raymond Pilat, Vice-President; Norman Landry, Advisor; Daniel Lalumiere, President

The class officers have the unique role of representing their respective classes in the social affairs of the College.

FRESHMAN

CLASS OFFICERS

Judith Noiseux, Secretary; Paul Marciano, Vice President; Sharon Walker, Secretary; Olga Williams, Advisor; David Rivers, President; Donald Charlesworth, Advisor

It is their responsibility to keep the morale of the students high by balancing the studious side of College with refreshing and entertaining social events.

NEWSPAPER

The college newspaper, the Northern Essex Community College Observer, keeps students informed of activities and happenings around the college, affording an excellent opportunity for individuals to express their opinions and display their talents.

CHORALE MEMBERS—Patricia Moore, Regian Kozdras, Rita Balboni, Elaine Burrill, Joy Grainger, Jerilyn Hastings, Linda Lemstrom, Claudette Boucher, Jean Cote, Margaret Conom, Darlene Richards, Ralph Plouff, Dean Quarrell, Ronald Darois

John Mainer, Director

CHORALE

The Northern Essex Community College Chorale, only recently introduced to the College, has already partially fulfilled the hopes of its organizer, John Mainer, as its Christmas program brought to us the spirit, awe, and beauty of the season.

We may look forward to many more such performances and are proud that our College is so represented in this area.

ELECTRONS

The Electrons Club was formed to encourage students in the electronic technology program to make use of their interest by gaining a better knowledge of electronics. This is accomplished by demonstrations in the electronics class and by field trips arranged to give the students a deeper understanding of the many possibilities in this technical field.

Members or the club this year build and operate a radio station in the College which besides providing a musical background in the lounge keeps students informed of the latest campus news.

Barbara Woodcock, Paul Janocha, Paul Caron, Chairman; Robert Richards, Raymond Pilat, Treasurer; Ann Brunault, Secretary

PUBLIC RELATIONS BOARD

The Public Relations Board was recently organized to provide a means of informing the public of social affairs and other events of interest. Newspapers and radio and other media are utilized for this purpose.

PRESIDENT'S HOUR

The President's Hour is a program offered for the benefit of the Freshmen students of Northern Essex Community College.

The meeting provides for a variety of educational, as well as entertaining, activities that attempt to serve in the edification process of the college student.
